

Maximizing available R&D tax credits without the extra effort

R&D TAX CREDITS

The road to success is paved with opportunities. One of the most significant — and, maybe, the most often overlooked — is the federal R&D tax credit. Whether you are a small to mid-size business or large enterprise, if you are doing research and development activities, you may be eligible for the Research and Development tax credits. Less than 1/3 of eligible companies that qualify for R&D tax credits apply and secure for them.¹

ADP® can help.
